[5~6] Read and choose the best answer.

Bruce: What are you writing, Jina?

Jina: It's a fable about an elephant.

Bruce: Fable? What is a fable?

Jina: A fable is a short story with animals, plants, or things.

In a fable, they can speak and act just like people.

Bruce: I see. You mean, like Aesop's stories?

Jina: Exactly. Also, a fable gives us a lesson. It teaches us something.

Bruce: What lesson?

Jina: "Don't tell a lie." Or "Being greedy brings you danger"

5. Read and check T(true) of F(false).

(1) A tree can't speak like people in a fable.

T ☐ F ☐

(2) Aesop's stories give us lessons.

T ☐ F ☐

6. Choose one that is NOT a fable.

① A dog tries to get more meat. He is greedy and lies to the cat. But he loses everything in the end.

② A prince meets a huge dragon in the woods. The prince fights the dragon and wins.

③ A fox meets a lion in the woods. The lion says, "I'll eat you." But the wise fox gets out of danger.

[7~10] Read and answer each question.

One day, a clam lay with its shell open on a beach. Then a stork came along. (A) He liked nothing better than eating clams. So, the stork stuck his beak into the clam's shell. But the clam closed its shell tightly on its beak! The stork couldn't shake off the clam. When the stork fought with the clam, a fisherman passed by. He saw the stork and clam and caught them both. That night, he had his best dinner in a long time!
